

Civil society as an advocate for the rights of persons with disabilities in government decision-making

Period of implementation: 01.01.2012 - 31.12.2016

EaP countries:

Armenia, Azerbaijan, Georgia, Ukraine

EU contribution: € 913 000

Social media account links:

Project website:

Project description:

The Project strengthens the role and capacity of Civil Society Organisations (CSOs) focusing on disability issues to work with local government in local decision making processes, as well as in monitoring the promotion of the rights and experiences of disabled people in policy design.

Expected results:

- Action 1: Establishment of a framework for local government decision-making and action that strengthens the ability of government to recognise and address the needs and rights of people with disabilities (PWDs).
- Action 2: Providing CSOs dealing with disability issues, local authorities and the media with skills and tools to raise awareness and to represent the diverse needs and issues facing PWDs more effectively.
- Action 3: Strengthening the involvement of CSOs and PWDs in government decision-making processes and in monitoring actions taken by local government to address disability issues.
- Action 4: Strengthening national and cross-border cooperation for better understanding of disability and the rights of persons with disability across the participating countries.